

First Quarter Financial Results Fiscal Year 2024 (Ending March 2025)

July 31, 2024
Seiko Epson Corporation

Summary

Q1 results

- YoY:
 - ✓ Although results varied among businesses, revenue and profit increased owing in part to the positive foreign exchange effects brought about by yen depreciation
 - Sales of printheads in commercial & industrial printing increased
 - Sales of semiconductors decreased as market inventory adjustments continued
- Vs internal plan
 - Revenue and profit exceeded the plan due to foreign change effects, strong results in printhead sales, and a revision to the timing of the promotions in office & home printing
- FY2024 full-year outlook (vs. previous outlook of 4/26)
 - Economic environment continued to be challenging
 - Raised the outlook for printheads, but decreased the outlook based on recent demand for microdevices and robots, which were originally forecasted to recover in the second half of the fiscal year
 - We revised our foreign exchange assumptions to a weaker yen and raised the outlook accordingly

Office & Home Printing

- IJP hardware unit sales increased by 7% compared to the same period last year, when channel inventory adjustments were ongoing. Despite the impact of price competition, we increased unit sales, and printer hardware revenue grew by 1% on a local currency basis and 11% on a yen basis.
- IJP ink revenue was -1% on a local currency basis and +8% on a yen basis. Sales remained steady, with growth in high volume ink bottles and office shared printer ink.
- Profit increased chiefly because of higher revenue, fixed cost containment, and lower transportation costs due to revised ocean freight rates.

- Commercial & Industrial Printing
- Commercial & industrial IJP finished products: Sales of label and corporate increased but were tempered by customer investment restraints.
- Printheads: Sales were strong, especially to Chinese printer manufacturers that are also exporting.
- Small printers, other: The retail and food service industries continue to restrain investment, especially in Europe and North America.
- Profit sharply increased owing mainly to the effect of higher revenue and lower transportation costs.

 Revenue increased primarily due to an improved model mix and yen depreciation, despite lower projector unit sales in North America, China, the Middle East, and some other markets.

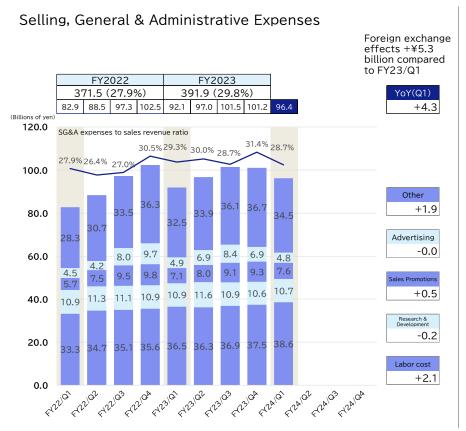

Manufacturing-related & Wearables

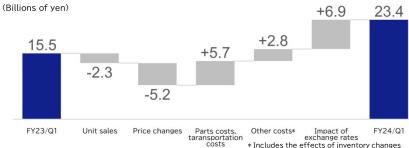

- Manufacturing solutions: Market demand for SCARA robots in China and elsewhere remained soft.
- Wearable products: Demand from visitors to Japan is on the rise.
- Microdevices, other: Sales decreased compared to the same period last year when semiconductor sales was higher as order backlog reduced.

Selling, General & Administrative Expenses Business Profit Change Cause Analysis

Unit sales

- + Printheads, high-capacity ink tank printers, etc.
- Semiconductors, projectors, etc.

Price changes

- + Watches, projectors, etc.
- Office & home IJP (hardware), etc.

Parts costs, transportation costs

+ Lower transportation costs mainly due to revised ocean freight rates

Other Costs

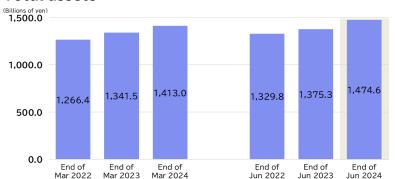

+ Lower fixed costs and less of a negative impact from inventory fluctuations compared to the same period last year

Cause Analysis of Change in Business Profit EPSON

Compared to the previous outlook

© Seiko Epson Corporation 2024

- Exchange rates are expected to positively impact profit due to yen depreciation.
- Unit sales for printheads will contribute positively after strong sales from the first quarter, but we lowered the outlook based on recent orders for microdevices and robots, which were originally forecasted to recover in the second half of the fiscal year.
- The risk of a greater impact from price changes, especially in office & home IJPs, was factored into the outlook.
- For other costs, a decrease in cost accompanying a decrease in sales and production volume was factored into the outlook along with cost containment.

* Includes the effects of inventory changes

Disclaimer regarding forward-looking statements

The foregoing statements regarding future results reflect the Company's expectations based on information available at the time of announcement. The information contains certain forward-looking statements that are subject to known and unknown risks and uncertainties that could cause actual results to differ materially from those expressed or implied by such statements. Such risks and uncertainties include, but are not limited to, the competitive environment, market trends, general economic conditions, technological changes, exchange rate fluctuations and our ability to continue to timely introduce new products and services.

Note regarding business profit

Business profit is calculated by deducting cost of sales and SGA expenses from revenue. Although not defined in the statement of consolidated comprehensive income, this indicator is very similar to the concept of operating income under J-GAAP. Epson will present this information as a reference, as the Company believes users of financial statements will find it useful when evaluating Epson's financial performance.

Numerical values presented herein

Numbers are rounded down to the unit indicated. Percentages are rounded off to one decimal place. Years mentioned in these materials are fiscal years unless otherwise indicated.
